Mayor needs to be clear about where he stands

Tue Apr 22, 2008

To the editor:

Each week appears to bring new developments in the sleepy Courtice community. This little bedroom community gets a little more confusing as the anti-incinerator debate rages. Our leader, the mayor, appears to want to extend totalitarian control over the Green Community Advisory Committee with the left hand and rule over the incinerator investigation with the right hand.

Which will it be Mr. Mayor? Who do you represent?

The overwhelming response in the newspapers week after week is anti-incineration. Are you stepping over to the other side now?

Here's an interesting question. April 22 was Earth Day. How did you spend it?

You need to ask yourself earnestly what your platform is. Is it for the people and the planet or does it stand for some hidden agenda that we are not aware of? It would be nice to have some leadership that is consistently working on behalf of the needs of the people.

This is what your platform needs to be and what it should stand for. How unfortunate that our community appears to look more and more backward all the time. Could this be due in part by ineffective leadership?
